

Consent form for children aged 10 to 16

Lasertag, the new trendsports from the United States, is a completely safe team game.

The participants wear colourful, electronic vests and try to reach the highest score. We use infrared signals to tag other participants and, especially, the targets inside the area. The lasers, which are made visible through ultraviolet light effects in combination with a fog machine, are absolutely harmless. The team with the highest score after the 15 minutes wins the game.

A short briefing video shows the security advices (do not run, do not climb, do not push each other, ...) every participant has to obey! For occasional personal or material damage caused by careless acting or disregarding the security advices given by our expert staff, the participant is entirely responsible. The participant can suspend the game at every time. In particular, the youth protection attracts our interests.

If a participant does not follow the rules or the instructions given by our expert staff, this can lead to an immediate exclusion of the participant from the current game. A requirement on repayment does not exist!
